

Garza Blanca Preserve, Resort & SPA officially opens

Garza Blanca Preserve, Resort & SPA welcomes guests on December 20, 2009 bringing glamour back to Puerto Vallarta's south shore.

Dec 04, 2009 – Garza Blanca and Puerto Vallarta's south shore were historically known as the hot spot for an elite few, a place where a stunning beach and backdrop set the stage for passionate tropical romances such as Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor's much talked about affair. This December, glamour returns to the south shore with the official opening of Garza Blanca PRESERVE, RESORT & SPA.

Grand Opening – Promising to surpass all industry service levels and expectations, Garza Blanca is set to open its doors on December 20, 2009, introducing two wonderful oceanfront establishments that boast sensuous spaces, luxurious finishes, exquisite décor and one of the most breathtaking views of Banderas Bay. Luxury units feature Jacuzzis and spacious terraces with panoramic views of the ocean, the famed Los Arcos and the most beautiful and certified beach in Puerto Vallarta, comfortable living areas, a stunning dining room, spacious baths with separate showers and tubs, luxuriously appointed kitchens, large screen LCD TVs, Ipod docks, and many more six-star amenities that will enhance a travelers stay.

An unbeatable location, elegant detailing and the highest standards of service set Garza Blanca Preserve, Resort & Spa apart as the only 6-star property in this destination.

New General Manager – An important element of the new opening for Garza Blanca has been the appointment of General Manager Miguel Andres Hernandez Arteaga. Formerly with the prestigious Las Alamas Resort—considered one of the top Mexico Boutique Hotels—Hernandez, a native of Bogota

Colombia and graduate of the reputed Universidad Externado, brings years of high-end service experience and management to this new project and is known in the industry for his hotels numerous awards and the ability to elevate a property's standards and service levels to their highest point.

When asked about the hotel's standards Hernandez says, "The search for excellence is not a goal, it involves a full-on commitment and constant dedication to our guests. The soul of any luxury resort is its staff and we focus on this every day. Every detail and every moment are unique and unrepeatable so we must get it right at all times".

Hernandez joins the already professional GARZA BLANCA PRESERVE, RESORT & SPA team that is trained to create unique, quality holiday experiences for each of their discerning guests.

BLANCA BLUE Restaurant & Bar- Executive Chef Patrick Robertson presents exciting modifications to an already tantalizing contemporary menu that includes gastronomic creations that have positioned BLANCA BLUE Restaurant & Bar as a must for foodies seeking the very best dining experience on the south shore. Robertson's imaginative menu, the breathtaking location, one of the best Premium bars in the country and a choice cellar cleverly stocked by Robertson and the resident sommelier Rosa Mendonza combine to create a sensual dining experience that awakens all senses.

About Patrick Robertson...

A graduate of the esteemed New York Culinary Institute of America, Robertson has found himself honing his skills in kitchens around the world, including Le Cirque and culinary citadels in Italy and France.

"My primary focus has always been the food, but as a chef, I also like to work with the staff, developing each and every person in both the dining room and the kitchen," explains Robertson about his team-building emphasis.

This great focus on balance and harmony – in personal as well as culinary realms – definitely translates into fabulous menus at Garza Blanca.

###

About Garza Blanca Preserve, Resort & Spa:

Located only 7 minutes from downtown Puerto Vallarta, Garza Blanca Preserve, Resort & Spa with its Blanca Blue Restaurant & Bar is nestled along the south shore at km. 7.5 of highway #200 between Puerto Vallarta and Barra de Navidad. The rebirth of Puerto Vallarta's glam south-side resort is assured through this high-end property featuring 45 exclusive units that are harmoniously developed along 85 acres of lush tropical jungle reserve. Allure, elegance and style combined with natural beauty await.